Place in Time

Dan Hardison

There is a time before the New Year begins and that of our Savior's birth – to look back on our journey to this place in time
and the year
that is dying.

Places we have been
people we have known
and those we have lost –
the accomplishments,
the sorrows,
and all that was
good or bad.

For once the first day of the New Year has arrived there will be no turning back –
only to move forward,
to face our goals, our dreams,
our hopes, and perhaps
another chance.
